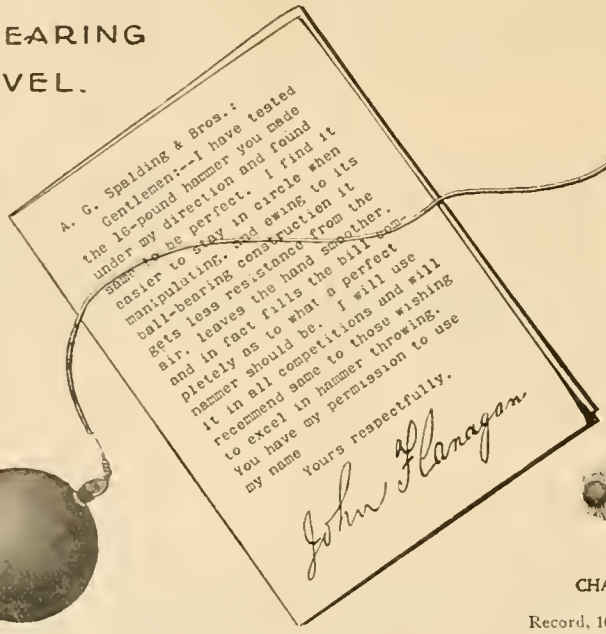
SPALDING'S CHAMPIONSHIP HAMMER

WITH BALL-BEARING SWIVEL.



A. G. Spalding & Bros.:
Gentlemen:--I have tested the 16-pound hammer you made under my direction and found it to be perfect. I find it easier to stay in circle when manipulating, and swing to it again to be easier. The ball-bearing construction from the gets less resistance from the air. leaves the hand smoother. and in fact fills the bill completely as to what a perfect hammer should be. I will use it in all competitions and will recommend same to those wishing to excel in hammer throwing. You have my permission to use my name
Yours respectfully.

BOSTON - MASS.

THE A. H. FINDLAY Golf Clubs are made by expert workmen from the very best material, and after models furnished by Mr. Findlay, who personally examines every club. The Drivers and Brassies are made socket style, which brings the spring close to the head, thereby increasing the driving distance.

THE Iron clubs—Cleek, Mid-Iron, Mashie, Putter, Driving Iron and Lofter are splendidly balanced, while a Niblick is so shaped that a ball can be played out of any difficulty. A golfer who plays with Findlay Clubs may feel certain that he has the best.

(NOTE—We are consulted daily on Golf Clubs and their respective uses. We herewith append a few words on the clubs most essential, and trust it will save you some postage stamps.—WRIGHT & DITSON)

A SHORT TALK ON GOLF CLUBS

BY A. H. FINDLAY

DRIVER

The Driver is the most powerful of golf clubs, with a fine springy shaft and straight or bulged face. With it the ball can be driven a greater distance than with any other club. Used at every tee for the first stroke (with the exception of a hole less than 165 yards or thereabout), and used through the fair green, also when the ball should, perchance, find a nice lie.

BRASSIE

The Brassie comes next for long distance, the head of which is somewhat smaller than the driver. The face is spooned or sloped back from the front of sole or horn to the top of the head, which gives the ball "loft" in the air. The sole is shod with brass to protect the head, as many shots are played in rough, hard places, which would play havoc with one's driver.

CLEEK

The Cleek is supposed to be the driver of the iron family, and is one of the most essential of clubs for all players, has less loft than other irons, and the longest shaft, though not so long as the Driver. When playing golf with a single club the Cleek should be used, as one can drive, approach and put with rather a good degree of accuracy.

DRIVING IRON

The Driving Iron is deeper in blade, and some are made more upright than is the Cleek. A handy club to use from the tee to holes less than a full drive. Is much similar to that of a Cleek.

MID IRON

Deeper in blade than either of above irons and has more loft, a very useful club to use when the ball lies badly, and for short approaches and running up approaches over level land, has no equal. No kit is complete without a Mid Iron; it drives less far than the Cleek, as it pitches the ball much higher into the air.

A SHORT TALK ON GOLF CLUBS

BY A. H. FINDLAY

MASHIE

Is shorter in the blade than the iron and has more loft. It is mostly used for approaches and for playing the ball out of ruts and rough places in general. All good golfers use it almost exclusively for all manner of approaches. Few golfers use it for full approaches. The half and strokes less than the half, should be practiced with the Mashie.

LOFTER

As the name implies, is used for pitching over bunkers and out of bad lies and short approaches. It has a much larger head than the Mashie and is really a harder club to handle, and one can play more accurately with a Mashie. The Lofter is gradually vanishing, and will soon be a thing of the past.

DRIVING MASHIE

Used as a Cleek or Driving Iron. It has a short, upright, deep blade, and drives the same distance as the Cleek or Driving Iron. Owing to the shortness of the blade, it enables a player to pick the ball out of a cuppy or bad lie better than irons with a longer blade. Is used mostly for full shots.

NIBLICK

Is used exclusively for bunkers and hazards. The head is not much longer than the ball. Good Niblicks are concaved and will pitch a ball almost straight up. It generally takes lots of dirt, etc., as mostly all Niblick shots are supposed to be hit low down beneath the ball. The Niblick stands more rough usage than all the other clubs combined.

PUTTER

Is the shortest in length of all, and is used for putting or playing short strokes on the putting green. There are all manner of putters; in the straight putter the head and shaft lie almost at right angles to each other, but this style is now almost obsolete, the crooked or "Goosenecked" Putter and Putting Cleeks being most used, they having many advantages over the ordinary putter.

Wooden putters are seen now and then, but they are of use only on large keen putting greens. I would not advise anyone to use a wooden putter.

OTHER CLUBS

Long Spoon, Mid Spoon, Short Spoon, Baffy, Brassy Niblicks, Driving Putters, are superseded by the Brassy in the wood line.

There are other freak iron clubs made, too numerous to mention, and too hard to define.

The device can be used on any lawn or in the house, it taking up very little room, as the ball revolves around the standard.

STRIKING BAG PLATFORMS

No. 1
MOLINE PLATFORM
$10.00

Bag is not included in above price. See list of bags on preceding pages.

THE most delightfully exhilarating indoor exercise is unquestionably that of vigorously punching a light, air-inflated bag against a reliable, responsive disc. It has, unfortunately, been deterred from occupying its proper place as a home exercise by its unwieldy size, weight and general unsuitability of the ordinary gymnasium disc and its many useless substitutes.

Our Moline Platform is adjustable in height, readily attached to any wall, and the side bracket so arranged that it touches three rows of studding.

Neat in design and handsomely finished, it in no way detracts from the appearance of the room, does not obstruct the light, and overcomes many other objectionable features of the old style disc usually costing double the price.

The new and exclusive feature in this platform offers a wide range of clever combinations and scientific work. Each platform is supplied with everything necessary for attaching to wall, and crated ready for shipment.

Megaphones

The Megaphone consists of a peculiarly constructed cone of light waterproof material or aluminum, mounted upon a folding adjustable tripod swivel-stand, so as to be convenient to use by anyone sitting down or standing in upright position. When spoken into it carries the voice with wonderful power and clearness to a great distance in any direction to which the 'phone is pointed.

On the water, shore, or in any open country where there are no obstructions and no local sounds to interfere, it is not difficult to talk and hear to and fro over a distance of a mile with this instrument, while a loud call or hail can be heard about two miles. Voices and other sounds from a distance, which would otherwise be inaudible, can be heard with great distinctness when, using the instrument as a receiver—that is to say, listening at the smaller end while the 'phone is pointed in the direction from which the sounds proceed.

On the deck of pleasure craft, at yacht club and other shore houses, or for public events of any kind, it is capable of great practical use.

No instructions are necessary, and by simply following the chart furnished with each machine all the muscles of the body may be easily and pleasantly exercised and with sufficient variations in the movements to relieve it of monotony. A few of the many movements, on margins of page, will give some idea of its scope.

KERNS' PATENT WAIST REDUCING MACHINE

Position No. 1

Kerns' Waist Reducer is a machine adapted for home or gymnasium use and can be placed against the wall or any upright support, requiring only 10 inches of wall space in width. The resistance, or weights, can be adjusted so that it may be used by a child or a grown person.

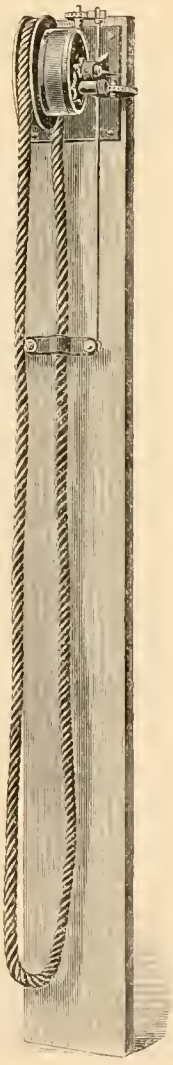
The machine is simple in construction and requires no great preparation to use it. A small, clock-faced dial registers the number of feet of rope pulled and assists the operator in determining how much work he should do. The operator starts his work in a normal position. All movements consist of a downward pull of the rope and are varied by taking the different positions shown in the engravings. The work can be made light or heavy, to suit the will of the operator, all movements having a direct action on the stomach and vital parts of the body.

Position No. 1

Position No. 3

It is well known to all that a common sailor who performs his duties on board ship has a small waist and sound stomach. These are gradually developed from the constant reaching and pulling on ropes and the change of position he is obliged to assume while performing his duties. This same effect is attained by using Kerns' Waist Reducer. These machines are being recommended by leading New York physicians and physical directors, who are making a study of a proper exercise in connection with their duties.

Position No. 4



Kerns' Waist Reducer is also a good all-round exerciser; every muscle of the body can be worked to good advantage. Most of the exercisers now in use have a tendency to make the operator muscle-bound, while the Kerns' Waist Reducer stretches the muscles and makes them soft and pliable. There is no spring or rubber to assist operator while regaining the normal position, for the natural vitality of the body should be enough, as in ordinary movements of life. The effect of this is that it leaves the body strong and active in all parts.

Position No. 5

Position No. 6

Position No. 1.

Face to the machine, right arm extended full reach, grasping the rope, movement downward, followed by left arm, giving the operator a regular overhand sailor pull. This movement is decidedly good in reducing the waist and hardening the stomach.

Position No. 2.

Face to machine, both hands on rope, a forward bend from hip and downward pull with the arms. This also reduces the waist and hardens the stomach.

Position No. 3.

Face to machine, reverse hands so as to have palms face the machine, downward pull and overhand, giving a beautiful wrist movement.

Positions Nos. 4 and 5.

Back to machine, standing at a proper distance from the machine, so that with the arm extended over head and so that rope may be pulled on a direct line; alternate by using right and left arm. Have weight adjusted on machine so as to have a fair pull without making muscles of body lame. This movement brings in most of the shoulder, neck and back muscles, besides expanding the chest

Position No. 6.

Back to machine, both arms behind back, grasping rope, with a downward pull hand over hand. This is a hip and waist movement.

Position No. 2.

Position No. 3

The above are only a few of the movements you can get on this machine.

THE LAFLIN FRICTION ROWING MACHINE

THE smallest, simplest and most practical Rowing Machine yet introduced. The means used to produce a resistance is a simple friction clutch, which takes instant hold at the commencement of the stroke and holds the pressure till its completion, but instantly releasing it, precisely as in a boat. It is quickly taken apart without loosening any bolts or screws, and can be set away in a closet or put under the bed, occupying but a small space—a most valuable feature for home use. Each machine is adjustable to any amount of friction, and has an indicator so graduated that one revolution is equivalent to 100 strokes, or one-third of a mile, based on Hanlan's time of thirty-two strokes per minute. Handsomely built from ash and maple, iron work japanned, and every machine guaranteed.

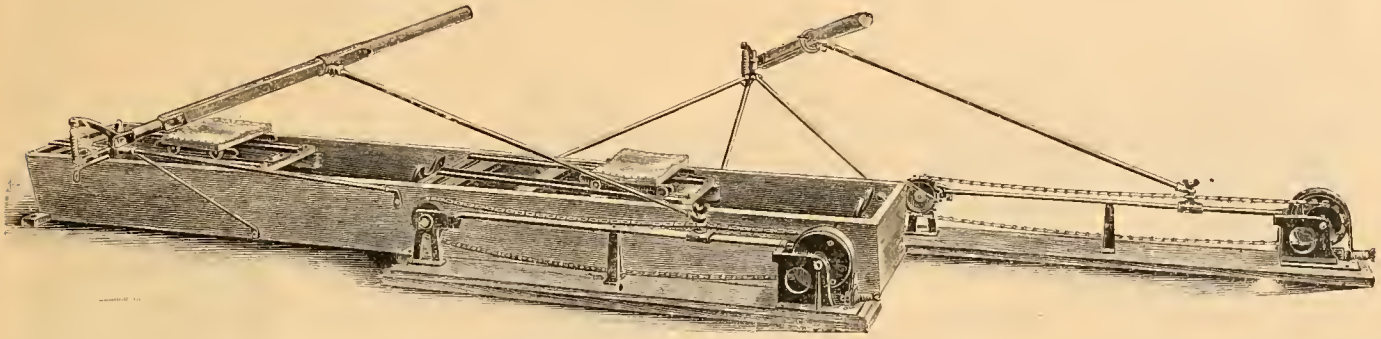
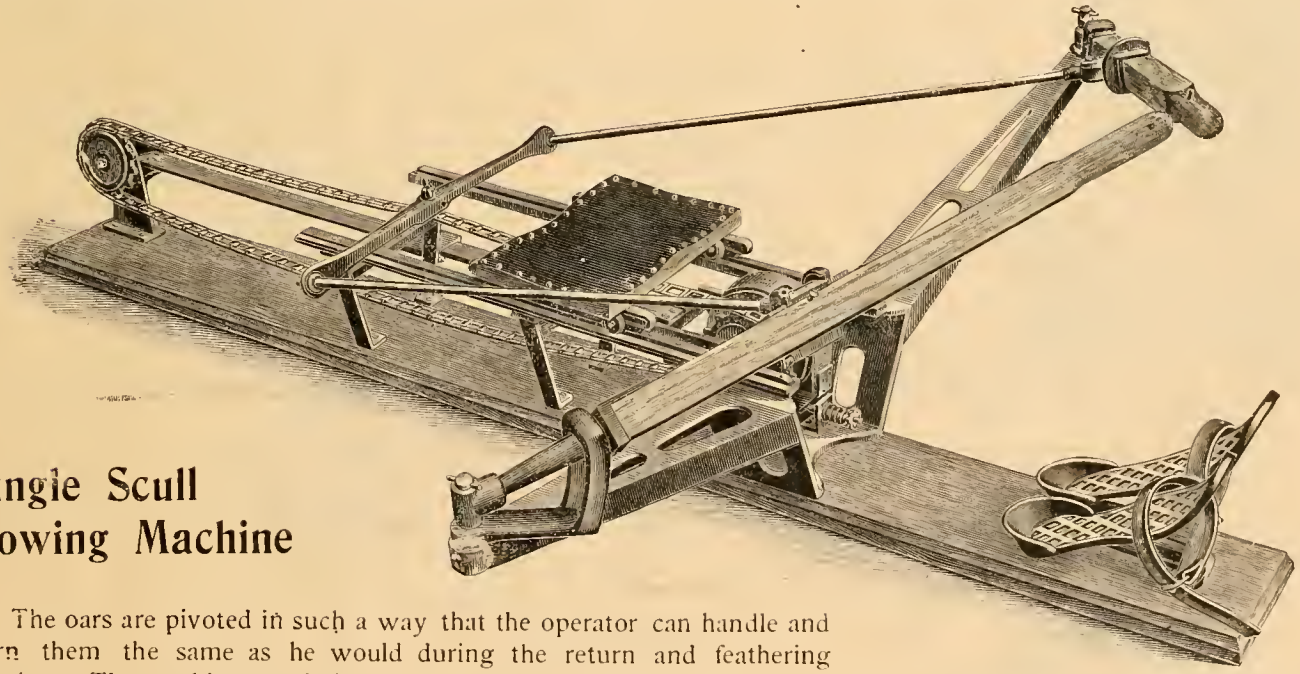
The rings are of the patent bent wood, about six inches in diameter. The apparatus can be put up in any room, and removed in a moment, leaving only two small eyes in the ceiling visible. Kerns' Patent Single Scull and Individual Sweep Rowing Machine

(PATENTED)



The ideal boat for gymnasium, home and training purposes, and is used by the leading athletic clubs, colleges and prominent oarsmen of the world. It is pronounced by experienced oarsmen to be the most perfect machine ever produced. The cuts herewith presented will give a general idea of the form in which the machines are built. They are fitted with the Kerns' Patent Roller Seat and Shoes, the shoes having a three-inch adjustment, to suit a tall or short person. By a thumb-nut a belt can be tightened to any desired degree, and more or less friction can be thrown into the running parts, so that the resistance during the stroke is the same as that which exists when forcing a shell-boat through the water. As the machines are intended for general use, the pull can be regulated at will by turning one screw so that the weaker sex can use the machine with very little resistance; while on the other hand, the resistance can be so increased that the strongest athlete can have the desired resistance.



Single Scull Rowing Machine

The oars are pivoted in such a way that the operator can handle and turn them the same as he would during the return and feathering motion. The machines are built for single scull rowing, pair oared, four, six or eight. The machines for crew rowing are rigged so as to place the men in the same position as they would be in a boat. Every machine is warranted.

The object of this invention is to prevent the chipping and jamming of the balls as they are returned on the runs of the alley. It can be readily adjusted to check or retard the ball and allow it to pass slowly from under the brake lever into place at the end of the run, the brake at once dropping into position to receive the next ball. THE NEW GAME of TABLE TENNIS or POM POM

Table Tennis is undoubtedly a game which can be classed as one of the best sources of sport and amusement amongst any of our indoor games. It is practically the revival of a game which was introduced about ten years ago. The improvement in this new game being a discovery of a material which lends itself to the manufacture of what we may call a feather-weight ball. There are no courts marked as in Lawn Tennis, the top of the table forming the court, so that a ball striking any part of the table is in play.

Containing Adjustable Posts and Net, two Parchment Covered Bats, and six Feather-Weight Balls.

No. A, $2.50; No. B, $3.50 No. C, $5.00
No. D, $7.50 No. E, $10.00
Table Tennis Balls, per dozen, 50c.

Important Notice to Our Customers

It is the habit of a majority of our trade when ordering goods of light weight to instruct that they be sent by mail. We recommend to such persons the new arrangements that we have made with the Express Companies for this class of packages.

Any package, if prepaid, weighing less than 15 ounces will be carried for 15 Cents, and 1 Cent for each Ounce over that amount, provided the value of the package does not exceed $10, and provided, also, that the destination is an express office of a company represented in Boston and east of the Rocky Mountains. All crushing and rubbing of goods is prevented, as the parcels are carried in trunks, and safe delivery guaranteed.

The mail is convenient at times, but the Express companies offer many advantages, particularly as the government does not assume responsibility for safe delivery.

The lowest registration of packages by mail being 10 cents, then adding postage, the Express system will be found in most cases, cheapest.
